RE: Minutes of Women and Crime Division meeting, 11/10/94

The meeting took place on 10 November, 1994, in Miami, during the annual ASC meetings. President Lynne Goodstein called the meeting to order by remarking on recent increases in the diversity of the Division's membership. Members present approved the minutes of last year's meeting. Lynne reported that we have about $3,000 in our account.

Lynne then announced the results of the recent Division elections: Nicole Rafter has been elected Vice-President, Joanne Belnap Secretary-Treasurer, and Chinita Heard Executive Councillor.

There followed various committee reports:

A. Nominations Committee: Lynne called for nominations for ASC and Division officers. Jim Hackler reported that Drew Humphries and Susan Caringella-MacDonald¹ have accepted the Division's nominations for ASC Executive Council, and that Meda Chesney-Lind will be a nominee for ASC President.

B. Awards and Fellows: Susan Miller reported that 3 out of 4 of the Division's nominees had been accepted. She needs a new co-chair to replace Sally Simpson. Freda Adler thanked the Division for supporting her nomination for Fellow.

C. Outreach Committee: Chinita Heard reported on various creative steps that she had taken to attract new members, such as organizing people well in advance to run the Division's display table and including lists of Division-supported panels in every registrant's folder.

D. Newsletter: Chris Rausche, drawing attention to the fact that there had been only one issue this year, stressed that the newsletter must be a collective effort and responsibility. Discussion ensued over whether it could be replaced by e-mail communications.

E. Special Events: Susan Krumholtz reported that this year's Social Hour went well, with about 125 attending (same as last year, but a very different crowd). She wants to step down as chair and is seeking a replacement. There was some discussion of whether the first or second night of the conference is best for our Social Hour and whether the Social might be held in the conference hotel.

¹Lynne: I'm typing up these notes in Vermont, without my Directory, and thus cannot check on spelling of names; please do so for me. Thanks.

F. Student Affairs: Mona Daner made several announcements and recommended that the Social be made free-of-cost for students as a recruiting device. Kay Scarborough will be taking over as chair.

G. Curriculum Guide: Chris Rausche talked about the progress of the new edition, which should be published in December 1994 or January 1995. Order forms have been distributed.

H. Division Dinners²: Nancy Jurik announced that there had been no sign-ups this year for the Division's informal dinner groups. They are very hard to schedule. Is there real interest? Should we shift to organizing informal groups for the Happy Hours?

I. Mentoring Program: Ruth Seydlitz presented written and oral reports on the new program being mobilized by herself and Nicky Rafter. A copy of the report is attached. So far, five matches have been arranged.

²Lynne: I didn't get the formal name of this subcomm.
